HERE'S CHANCE TO MAKE SOLDIER HAPPY

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch Offers Opportunity to Send Bargain Package of "Smokes"

Tobacco and Cigarettes, Worth 55 Cents, will Cost Only 25--Red Cross will Distribute Them

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH TOBACCO FUND.

Enclosed please find $..... as my contribution to the fund to buy tobacco for the American troops abroad.

Name.....

Street Address.....

Our soldiers in France want American tobacco and cigarettes.

Everyone knows this; everyone says so. The soldiers are longing for good American smokes. That curly, hot, French tobacco is all right for the poilus, for they like it, but it's not the kind our boys are used to. They want those regular cigarettes, the old familiar "makins", those cans of good American tobacco.

And you can see that they get them.

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch is going to make it easy for you to send smokes to the soldiers. The Brainerd Daily Dispatch tobacco fund has been started to supply our boys with their favorite smoke.

Will you help make it a success? The plan has been endorsed by the government. Through the efforts of this paper arrangements have been made with the American Tobacco company to send 55 cents worth of tobacco for 25 cents. The Red Cross will distribute the package abroad.

Here is what the soldiers will get:

- 2 Packages of Lucky Strike Cigarettes, retail price .30
- 2 Packages of Bull Durham Cigarettes, retail price .15
- 3 Books Bull Durham Cigarette papers
- 1 Tin of Tuxedo Tobacco, retail price .10
- 4 Books of Tuxedo Cigarette papers

All this goes to some soldier at the front at the price of 25 cents. A return postcard is enclosed in each package, so that every contributor will receive a personal acknowledgment of his gift. You will treasure this message from the trenches.

Everybody wants to give a little. Will you help make it a success by doing your bit?

Contribute! Organize your club, your church, your town, your office, your factory, and give the boys just a little comfort--their favorite smoke.

Send contributions to The Brainerd Daily Dispatch Tobacco Fund. Remember, 25 cents buys enough smokes to last a soldier at least a week. A dollar will keep a corporal's guard in smokes for that length of time. Any amount from 25 cents up will be appreciated by the boys fighting in France.

The names of contributors will be published from day to day. Send in your contribution today. A day makes a lot of difference to a soldier waiting for a smoke.

These packages of tobacco can't be addressed to any particular friend at the front, as they will be taken over in large quantities by the Red Cross and distributed among the soldiers. You will soon learn, however, (Turn to Page 5, Column 5)

Discover Organization Through Which Von Bernstorff Worked

Washington, Sept. 21--Congress is developing a determination to unearth the organization through which Von Bernstorff worked. The house and senate is astonished.

The state department indicates that it is convinced of the identity of the organization that Von Bernstorff referred to, though there is sufficient doubt to prevent the announcement, and intimated that the money was spent on propaganda telegrams rather than directly on congressmen.

Von Bernstorff Plotted While Relations Were Friendly

Washington, Sept. 21--That former German Ambassador Count von Bernstorff was an active anti-American plotter while his nation and the United States were still friendly and that he asked the Berlin Foreign office January 22 for $50,000 to influence congress "as on former occasions" was made public by the state department today by giving out the text of a message that von Bernstorff that day forwarded to the Berlin foreign office. The message read: "I request authority to pay up to $50,000 in order as on former occasions to influence congress through an organization you know of which can perhaps prevent war. I am beginning in the meantime to act accordingly. In the above circumstances a public official German declaration in favor of Ireland is highly desirable in order to gain support of the Irish influence here."

China Will Participate in War With Allies

(By United Press)

Tokio, Sept. 21--China is to be rewarded for her participation in the war with the allies according to Pekin advices. There is nothing official but it is understood the ministers of the allied nations have promised to grant China the appointment of Chinese and allied officials to investigate and revise the tariff, the postponement of the payment of the boxer indemnities for a period of ten years, probably, the immediate payment of seven million dollars by Japan on behalf of an international banking group as an advance on a proposed second reorganization loan of fifty millions. The allies also desire a more strict control of enemy subjects in China, increased agricultural export to the allied countries and the dispatch of troops to France.

Latest British Drive Complete Success

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 21--A complete success is declared by General Haig as the results of the great British drive on the Ypres-Menin road. The enemy losses are declared to be very heavy and the British casualties very light. Northwest of Lagamarck our troops cleaned up a number of strong positions. During the afternoon and evening considerable forces of the enemy counter attacked, suffering great casualties. The obstinacy of the enemy increased his losses without regaining valuable ground.

Price Fixing of All Essential Products Is Recommended

Atlantic City, Sept. 21--Price fixing by the government of all essential products is recommended in resolutions of the war convention of the American Chamber of Commerce.

National Committeeman Will be Nominated

St. Paul, Sept. 21--A republican National committeeman will be nominated at a meeting of the state central committee here Sept. 28.

"Off to Germany to lick old Kaiser Bill," that's the sentiment that stirred the thousands who watched Crow Wing county's quota of 130 entrain for the cantonment at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, this noon.

At the court house Thursday there was roll call. In the evening a good supper was enjoyed at the Ransford hotel and many of the enlisted men attended the dance inaugurated by Tom Wood. There were parties galore about town entertaining the enlisted men. The Southeast Brainerd club entertained for Archie Falconer, Anton Anderson, Axel Anderson. The hall was decorated in U. S. flags and the table cloth was of red, white and blue.

Friday morning the quota gathered at the court house and were checked up at roll call by County Auditor C. W. Mahlum, Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and Attorney Francis E. Murphy of Crosby.

Representatives of the Red Cross were present and the men received their comfort kits.

The parade led from the court house to the waiting train. The Brainerd City band was at the head, followed by the old soldiers, twelve of whom carried a large American flag, then came a delegation of the Woman's Relief Corps, the quota of 130 recruits marching in fours, the Iron-ton band, the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce drum corps, the Boy Scouts and citizens.

Ironton in 100 cars had first paraded the Cuyuna iron range, making it a great loyalty demonstration. Headed by Mayor P. J. Long, Trustees A. H. Proctor, Tom Mulvaney, Phil Ellingson, Clerk E. R. Burns, Attorney D. B. McAlpine, E. A. Lamb, Sr. and E. A. Lamb, Jr., John H. Hill, the cars whirled about the range with the band amid the whistle and dh from every mine on the iron range.

At Brainerd this morning range and countryside united with Brainerd in paying tribute to the boys called to the colors. There were no speeches. None were needed. Flags waved on all sides, school children, friends, relatives were present to say a last word to a loved one called to the front.

The Minnesota & International passenger train steamed in with its quota of two coaches from Bemidji and Walker loaded with flags. More cheers as Brainerd and Crow Wing county recognized many of their chums.

Shortly after the Duluth-Staples passenger arrived with a coach of Aitkin county boys, their car bearing a huge banner.

Sheriff Theorin, County Auditor Mahlum, Mayor Balse, County Treasurer Adair, Attorney Murphy made the final roll call of the boys as they entered the coaches.

Whistle blasts sounded from every engine in the yards, the conductor cried "All Aboard" and amid farewells from thousands of throats the special pulled out.

Mother choked back her tears and said: "He's gone to back the president."

It was announced that James R. Sharp and Henry Mills, not with the quota today, are in officers training camps. F. G. Sundberg is with the Rock County contingent.

Russia is Reaching Reign of Terror Stage

(By United Press)

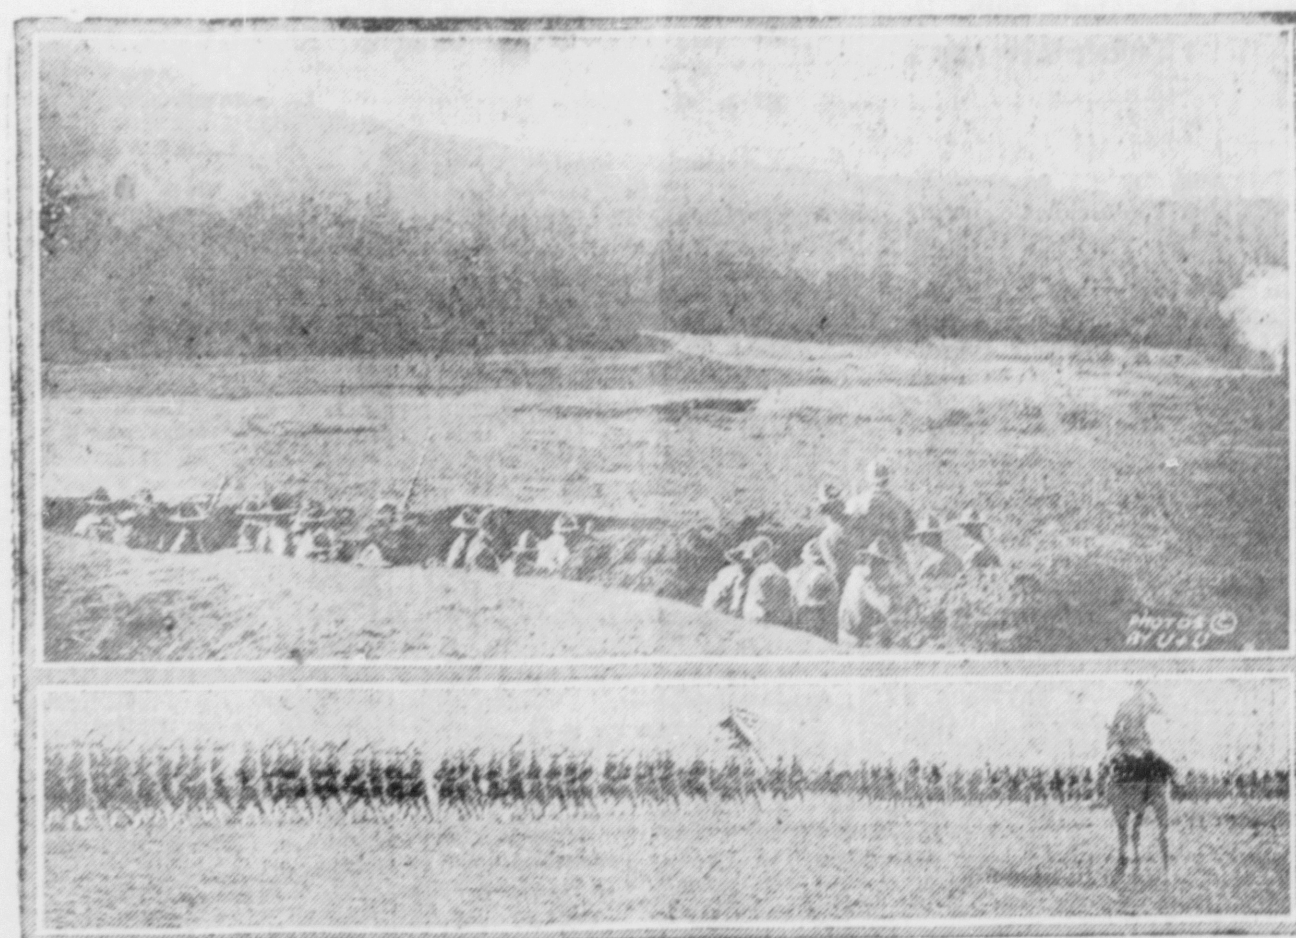

Stockholm, Sept. 21--Russia is reaching the reign of terror stage. The C. A. Y. R. is for wholesale executions. The radicals are demanding the lives of Milukoff, and President Redzianko of the Duma and 20 members. Teuton propaganda more than the German armies is a menace to Russian life. Teuton intrigue is reaching even to an attempt on Premier Kerensky's life.

Flag Manufacturers Charged---Profiteering

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 21--The exploitation of the stars and stripes for illegal profiteering is the charges made by the federal trade commission in a formal complaint against the American flag manufacturers of America and 29 of the largest banner makers in the country. Unfair competition is alleged.

American Soldiers Training Near the Fighting Line

These are the first photographs of fighting in France to reach the American soldiers training near the United States. The upper photograph shows them in a trench just back of the actual fighting. There they are learning to use hand grenades, one of the most important duties of modern fighters. The lower photo shows them marching past General De Puygradin for review.

BRAINERD MARKET DAY TUESDAY, SEPT. 25th

Under Direction of Progressive Business Men of Brainerd and the Chamber of Commerce

Free Auction for Farmers, Special Bargains Offered by 26 Leading Merchants of the City

MARKET DAY

- Date--Tuesday, September 25.
- Place--Brainerd, county seat of Crow Wing county.
- Direction--Of Progressive business men of Brainerd and Chamber of Commerce.
- Auctioneer--H. Z. Zierke.
- Clerk of Auction--G. P. O'Brien of Citizens State bank.

FEATURES

- Free auction for farmers.
- Special bargains in commodities offered by 26 leading merchants of the city.
- Free lunch at Chamber of Commerce rooms at noon to holders of tickets issued by these merchants.
- Music and entertainment in their honor, Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Everything points to one of the largest gatherings of farmers and residents of the rural districts in Brainerd on Tuesday, September 25, ever held in the county seat town, with a free auction for farmers, many special bargain offerings in commodities for them to consider and a day of general good-fellowship and cheer in which business men and farmers will mingle freely.

Every detail has been completed and if the weather man will do his part, the success scored at the Free Auction and Market Day last spring will be duplicated, even eclipsed, if a thing is possible.

Ads in This Issue

The retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce is fathering this movement for a monthly auction and market day in Brainerd. Progressive merchants are going down into their pockets to finance it, are giving money for advertising space, putting substantial commodities down to cost and doing their part in every respect to make the day a big success. It should be appreciated by farmers and others and undoubtedly is, as the expressions from them at the last event of the kind indicated.

Boni Fide Bargains

Every ad on the Market Day page in this issue should be carefully read and profited by. These merchants stand back of their bargains, they are men who enjoy a reputation for reliability and deserve every confidence and patronage. Their stores should be crowded on Market Day by practical buyers.

Secure Lunch Tickets.

Lunch tickets have been issued to the merchants advertising on this page as they are the ones who are financing Market Day. Some 260 tickets are already out and it is expected that the number will reach 300 before the day arrives. Farmers can secure these tickets from the merchants whose names appear on the Market Day page of this issue of the Brainerd Dispatch and every one served must have a ticket, otherwise the committee would not be able to accommodate all of our rural friends and others who are expected to enjoy the noon hour at the Chamber of Commerce where lunch will be served. Ask for tickets from your merchant and he will accommodate you.

Bring Your Family

The Chamber of Commerce will keep open house on Market Day and the ladies are cordially invited to make use of the rooms as well as the Rest Room in the city hall building. Music and entertainment will be furnished during the noon hour and a pleasant day is assured. The get-together idea is what the committee aims at and the county seat town is the place for this. A special committee of merchants will assist in the details of the lunch and entertainment and they make it plain that it is a case of "the more, the merrier." Bring your family, enjoy the day and save dollars when dollars count mighty big as they do just now.

Auction Plan.

The auction will be held on Market Square near the new county jail building and anything and everything the farmers see fit to bring in for auction will be put up and offered free of cost to him. A competent auctioneer and clerk have been engaged and this feature of the big day will be carried out in a business-like, systematic manner. List your goods with the clerk, G. P. O'Brien and H. C. Zierke auctioneer will do the rest.

The retail market in the Gardner building, is doing a lively business and will be open on Market Day. It offers a fine opportunity for farmers to dispose of vegetables and garden truck for cash and buyers have thus far been in excess of the supply of goods. Bring in your commodities of all kinds on Market Day and they will be disposed of. Potato buyers will be here on that day and farmers are invited to bring in samples for them to look at.

Local Shoppers

Local people are not barred from taking advantage of the bargains in commodities advertised in this issue. Large bills will be struck off and liberally distributed and merchants say, "as long as they last," so it will be to the advantage of every conservative buyer to read the ads and profit thereby.

It is planned to give up the forenoon to shopping and the entertainment of the lunch hour and the auction will be held at 1:30 p. m. at the place designated.

President Sends Special Commission of Five to Investigate Trouble.

New York Longshoremen Return to Work Pending Settlement of Strike by Arbitration—Seattle Shipyards Face Complete Tieup.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Secretary of Labor Wilson heads a special commission appointed by President Wilson, representing him personally, to visit the Pacific coast and investigate labor troubles in plants where government shipbuilding is being done. The other members are Col. L. J. Spangler, Pennsylvania; Verner Reed, Colorado; John H. Walker, Illinois, and E. P. Marsh, Washington.

Agree to Arbitrate.
New York, Sept. 21.—The longshoremen voted to submit to arbitration, their grievances against the International Mercantile Marine, against which they are on strike, and to return to work at once.

The ballot stood 418 to 217. Officials of the union claimed before this action was taken that sympathy strikes of ship carpenters, ship workers, coopers and checkers had increased the number of strikers to 6,000 and that the loading of 67 vessels under Allied flags had been stopped.

Dock Workers Join Strike.
New Orleans, La., Sept. 21.—Approximately 500 negro freight handlers have joined the dock workers' strike here. Longshoremen numbering 2,100 have walked out. Shipping is at a standstill.

Faces Complete Tieup.
Seattle, Sept. 21.—Within three or four days, if settlement is not made sooner of the sympathetic strike of ship carpenters, Seattle's steel shipyards will be practically tied up, according to Secretary Miller of the metal trades council. Miller declared that refusal of metal trades members to handle 10 hour lumber on work on stagings built from it would shut down the yards.

Attains Record Altitude
Italian Aviator Ascends to Height of 17,000 Feet.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 21.—Carrying 12 passengers in a Caproni triplane, Lieutenant Emilio Resnati, Italian army aviator, attained an altitude of 17,000 feet near here. This was 1,000 feet higher than the previous American record with a single passenger, made by Victor Carlstrom, an American aviator killed several months ago, and was regarded as a remarkable performance.

The Caproni machine used by Lieutenant Resnati has a wing spread of 70 feet and is propelled by three engines of 160 horsepower each.

Lieutenant Resnati will leave soon on a trip to Washington carrying 12 passengers including United States government officials.

Wilson Gets Wheat Growers' Protest.
Washington, Sept. 21.—A delegation of Northwestern wheat growers and dealers presented to President Wilson their claim that wheat prices fixed by the government work a great hardship upon the Northwest, calling for some measure of relief. Because of the addition of a differential of about 30 cents a bushel to the Chicago price of $2.90, the President was told it is almost impossible to sell Northwestern wheat. Senators Chamberlain, Poindexter and Brady introduced the legislation at the White House.

Germany Authorizes Appeal to Red Cross and Rockefeller Fund For Relief of Deplorable Condition.

Washington, Sept. 21.—To such an extent have starvation and rioting in Warsaw and other sections of Poland occupied by the Germans gone, that Germany has authorized relief workers to seek funds wherever they may be found.

The Red Cross headquarters at Geneva and agents of the Rockefeller fund have been called upon for help.

This information reached here from a man in Switzerland who has been attending the work of distributing relief in Poland and who was allowed to leave the country by the Germans on condition that he raise more money.

Infant Mortality Shocking.
The general condition of Poland, the message said, is deplorable. Prices of food have risen to such an extent that none but the richest can buy. The poor are literally starving and the mortality among the children is shocking.

Hatred of the Germans is said to be so intense that women attack German soldiers in the streets and gendarmes have been forbidden to patrol the country at night, so many of them had disappeared. It is plainly evident, according to the dispatch, that the Germans are apprehensive.

Brig. Gen. Hale
Infantry leader is remarkable shot with rifle and pistol.

Brig. Gen. Harry C. Hale was born in Illinois, June 10, 1861, and appointed to the Military Academy from that state in 1879. In 1888 he was promoted to second lieutenant and assigned to the Twelfth Infantry, in which arm of the service he has continued. During the Spanish-American war, while captain of the regular establishment, he was made a major of volunteers. He is a remarkable shot with both the pistol and rifle and wrote the Pistol Manual and Small Arms Firing Regulations for the army.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 21.—The war is an economic struggle and ocean commerce will win it, James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, told the National Chamber of Commerce war convention delegates.

Swedish Envoy in Mexico City Leaves Hiding Place.

Mexico City, Sept. 21.—Folke Cronholm, former charge of the Swedish legation, emerged from hiding Thursday for the first time since the United States barred the Von Eckhardt letter. Cronholm denied indignantly that he had aided Germany, as Von Eckhardt said he had in his dispatches recommending a decoration for the Swedish diplomat.

"The German minister never offered or promised me any decoration," Cronholm said. "Moreover, I have received no decoration."
Cronholm has been unreachable ever since the state department's exposure of the German minister's letter. He has been living at the German club.

A Gulf Port, Sept. 21.—Seizure of the American schooner Goldfields near this port and the arrest of its crew on charges of aiding the enemy, by agents of the federal government, has become known here. All members of the crew with the exception of the skipper, are said to be Spaniards. According to reports, the vessel was suspected of supplying oil to German submarines while on route from a southern European port. The Goldfields ran aground late last week. It was towed into this harbor last Sunday.

Spenser's "Epithalamium," Milton's "Ode on the Nativity," Keats' odes "To a Nightingale" and "On a Grecian Urn" and Shelley's "To a Skylark" are notable instances of this class of poem, and to these must be added, though their form is irregular, Wordsworth's magnificent "Intimations of Immortality" and Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington."

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of frezone, says a Cincinnati authority.
It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of frezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.
This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

ANNUAL MEETING

Methodist Ladies' Aid Society Met on Thursday Afternoon at the Church

Yesterday afternoon in the social rooms of the church, the ladies of the Methodist aid society held their annual meeting being entertained by Mrs. George Brown in a most charming manner. A very large crowd of ladies were in attendance and the receipts for the afternoon were the largest of any meeting of the whole year.

The reports for the year were most gratifying, the annual report which was read showing that $651.26 had been raised by the ladies during the year. All the departments are in splendid condition and the aid looks forward to another even more prosperous year. The social rooms of the church are ideal for these meetings, the dining room and kitchen being so convenient and cozy that the ladies prefer to entertain in these rooms rather than in their own homes, especially since the size of the aid makes it impossible to entertain in even the largest of homes with convenience.

The luncheon served yesterday by Mrs. Brown was tasty and appetizing. At six o'clock the men gathered for a bounteous supper, followed by a pleasant social time.

Mrs. Alma Thompson, the worthy and efficient president of the society was unanimously re-elected by acclamation. The vice president, secretary and treasurer were also unanimously re-elected. The following are the officers for the new year:

President—Mrs. Alma Thompson.
Vice President—Mrs. Olaf Skauge.
Secretary—Mrs. A. T. Fisher.
Treasurer—Mrs. George E. Senn.
Chairman of Work Com.—Mrs. George Brown.

Chairman Mercy and Help—Mrs. V. L. Rounds.
Chairman Flower Com.—Mrs. Dan Lawrence.

A New Feature

A new feature in regard to music will be given at the Peoples Congregational church on Sunday evening. Six old hymns have been selected. A short history of each hymn, its author and the circumstances leading to the composition, and incidents connected with the song will be given, after which the audience will unite in singing the hymn. The following are the hymns chosen:

"All Hail the Power of Jesus," "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me," "My Jesus, I Love Thee," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," "Almost Persuaded."

A special feature of the evening will be a tenor solo by Oscar Henning, a singer of note.

Chances Only Fair.

A judge who is blessed with a tremendous head of hair, which is generally in a state of wild disorder, was questioning a youthful witness to make sure that he comprehended the character and importance of the oath he was about to take.

"Boy," he said in his severest and most magisterial manner, "do you feel that you could identify me after six months? Now, be careful. Think before you speak."

"Well, your honor," replied the boy after a prolonged survey of the great judge, "I ain't dead sure, but I think I could if you wasn't to comb your hair."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PLAN NOON DAY SHOP MEETINGS

New Feature Introduced by the Bromley Evangelistic Party of the Tabernacle

FIRST GATHERING ON SATURDAY

"God Does Not Want Any Man to Go About with a Long Face," said the Evangelist

The Thursday night meeting at the tabernacle was more largely attended than others this week. There was a good sized crowd present and all listened with interest to whatever was said from the platform. Different people are coming from night to night and they find that a welcome awaits them and that no one can be there without hearing something that is for his advantage to hear.

The broadmindedness of the evangelist is evident at every meeting and he voices the sentiment of the united churches that the campaign is for all and not for a few. It is not for a class; class lines are to be left outside the door and those who enter within are all having the same need and care.

Today a new feature is to be introduced—the noon-day shop meeting. This is under the direction of the shop and store committee of which Dan Lawrence is chairman. The first meeting will be tomorrow noon at the machine shop and Rev. B. H. Shaddock will be the speaker and Miss Irene McCague the singer.

This will be just the first of a series of meetings at the shops. The desire of the Ministerial association is that the railroad men may know that this united movement cannot be carried out without their cooperation and sympathy. The churches of Brainerd are made up in a very large part by the men of the shop and they constitute an asset that is invaluable.

Last night Miss McCague sang the solo "A Little Old Fashioned, I Know," in a most pleasing way. She possesses a charm of personality that will break down any barrier of criticism erected against anyone singing the gospel of Christ. Her place in the affection of the people is growing more and more secure.

Rev. Lowrie made a plea for the class of personal workers that is now under instruction by Dr. Bromley. He stated the value of a trained body of Christian people in the churches who had skill and efficiency in doing personal work. Such a class in the church would keep the revival fires kindled all the time and bring into its membership the choicest souls.

It is very noticeable that many members of the different churches engaged in this wholesome movement are not present. The few from the churches must not be left to work alone. There is a load to lift that should arouse the loyalty of every individual member. The clergy are not seeking their own ends, it is the church they are seeking to aid and every absent church member hurts his own church and the cause for which it stands. Now is the time to show loyalty that will bring a hundred fold results later. The fight is on, he who fails to rally to the colors is missed.

The evangelist took for his text John seven thirty-seven: "If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink." The ancient Jews looked forward to the coming of Christ. When He came they listened to His words with wonder and amazement. "Whence hath this man this wisdom?" enquired they. His words are still the wonder of the world and always such will remain.

Professor Romanes made an excursion into the realm of unbelief but when he contracted the utterances of the apostles of unbelief with the words of Christ He found them sententious and vain.

The word of Christ given in the text contain a gracious invitation to come to the fountain of life. He who drank from that fountain would find the rivers of eternal life.

The evangelist urged the people to come to the joy of religious belief. Religion without joy is a sunbeam without warmth. The Christian man is the happy one for he has that within which makes for all happiness. Though he be alone he has within a well spring of atpeaceness which will give him a "song in the night."

A Christian can have a good time all by himself but the sinner cannot, he must have companionship of a kindred spirit. The sins which fall away from one when he becomes a Christian are the common sins of all time and are condemned by wise men of all ages. Complete happiness is found in Jesus Christ and in Him alone.

God does not want any man to go about with a long face and emphasizes joy, happiness, contentment throughout His word. Freedom comes when one surrenders self. If one gives up everything he will get something better in its place.

GREAT ARMY OF YOUNG MEN

A great army of young men has been drawn for service to their country and a large part of the Crow Wing county contingent left today for the cantonment camp at Ft. Dodge to join that great body of men Uncle Sam is getting together, the first great army of the republic since the civil war.

Fate has decreed that they go to the front in defense of the flag and to make this country a safe and secure republic which will command the respect of the nations of the world. It is a hard sacrifice to all and the young men who today are leaving their homes, their loved ones, their business avocations and their all for the protection of the country are entitled to every honor that can be bestowed upon them, they will be enrolled among the heroes of the country and all honor to them.

The ones that stay at home can never make anything like an equal sacrifice compared to that of those who go to the front, the mothers expected, and there is but one way in which an approach to the loyalty exhibited can be made and that is through liberality of time and money in providing necessities and comfort, especially through the Red Cross, work, through government loyalty and in the support of all these things that go to make it possible that this war be speedily brought to a victorious end.

God bless the boys who have enlisted their services for their country's welfare and bring them safely home, and to the brave mothers who are giving their brave sons to the flag the sympathy of the community is with them, their sacrifice is the greatest.

The Red Cross needs your help to do the things asked of them for the aid and comfort of the boys who have gone to the front. There should not be a woman in Brainerd who does not offer her services for some line of this work for at least a small portion of time each day or week. A thousand willing workers makes small the task that 25 to 50 have to do. It may be your son, your husband or your sweetheart, brother or father who needs the help that the Red Cross offers and you would be glad to know that their ailments or sufferings were to be taken care of if needed. There should be no more need of appeal to the women of Brainerd for help in this line.

Opportunities For Older Men

Because of the war many positions formerly filled by young men are open to older men. A man's kidneys may make him unfit for hard labor or clear thinking, may make him old before his time, for poisons retained in the system "slows him up" physically and mentally. CAPITAL SEEKS HELP OF LABORObject Is Industrial Peace During War by Burying of Hatchet.

ARBITRATION IS ASKED

Business Men in National Convention
Ask Labor to Co-Operate and Agree to Refrain From Profiteering.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 21.—Organized business has proposed to labor that the hatchet be buried, after being charged by Secretary of Labor Wilson that war profiteers among their number were in a large measure responsible for the strikes and labor unrest throughout the nation.

Making success for the nation in the war its first objective, the Chamber of Commerce of America in its war session here asked labor to co-operate to put through the merchant shipbuilding program without further delays. As a second step, the chamber acted to weed out profiteering.

Will Stop Lockouts.
Resolutions were adopted by the industrial relations section to prevent strikes and lockouts interfering with the government program through co-operation of capital and labor.

The resolutions will be put before the full convention.
The action was taken after Secretary of Labor Wilson declared that unrest among laboring men was due to the impression that business has been making excessive profits in which labor has not shared.

"Has it never occurred to you businessmen," Secretary Wilson asked, "that the story has gone forth that you are not patriotic; that you have been profiteering? And did it ever occur to you that the workingman has said to himself he will insist on getting his share of the swag? My position is that there should be no 'swag.' I have said to labor that this is no time to insist on union recognition and changes in labor standards. But I also say to you employers that this is no time to stand on your prejudices, no time to insist on profiteering. You should not take advantage of your country's necessities to insist on abnormal profits."

The Resolutions Provide.
That no attempts be made by business to change labor conditions and that labor make no efforts to force union recognition or changes in standards.

That there be no profiteering in business to give rise to labor unrest.
That business recommend to the government creation of a government board representing labor, capital and the public to settle all major disputes and that the board's decisions be binding on both sides.

That industry call on labor to co-operate in making it plain there will be no strikes or lockouts while adjustments are being made.

That government employment agencies be developed and extended by congressional appropriation.

That industry institute a study of conditions looking towards the alleviation of conditions during times of industrial depression.

SEEK TO SAVE WASTED WHEAT

Farmers Are Cautioned Against Loss in Handling.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Specialists in Western wheat districts estimate that 20,000,000 bushels of wheat and proportionate quantities of other cereals are annually wasted in harvesting and threshing. The Department of Agriculture in a statement just issued urged farmers to give special attention to the adjustment of threshing machines and to make certain that none of the grain is lost with the straw and chaff. Care should also be taken to harvest all grain in the corners of the edges of fields, the department announces.

Attention is called to the fact that one bushel of wheat will furnish bread for one person for about seventy-five days.

This course should include a backward glance over the military history of the United States. It is worth while for the soldier to recall why and how the men before us fought for American principles and rights. You are representing today the same ideals and fighting for many of the same things they fought for in 1776, 1798, 1812, 1846, 1861 and 1898.

In 1776 our forefathers refused any longer to submit to the demands of a tyrannical government and declared themselves independent. The farmers and shopkeepers and mechanics and fishermen who rushed to arms at the beginning of the Revolution did not at first realize they were forming a new nation. But before long they saw clearly that in order to enjoy liberty they must shake off the rule of the autocratic government which had its seat in London.

Our First War.

In their attitude they had the sympathy of a great many Englishmen who were broad enough to see that the American colonists were really fighting for the rights of all free peoples. In the British Parliament Pitt and Burke and other great Englishmen openly defended the American patriots. "If I were an American as I am an Englishman," said one of the great parliamentary leaders, "while a foreign troop remained in my country I would never lay down my arms." It was not the English people who were seeking to suppress liberty in America, but a small body of court politicians—an autocratic government—which misrepresented the people.

The Americans of that day on their part did not hesitate to take up arms for their rights, even though they came into conflict with the seasoned troops of a great power—even though they had to meet invasion and partial conquest of their own country. Nor did they long hesitate to break completely away from the motherland which many of them still loved.

In 1798 we found ourselves in a state of war with the French government. This is not usually thought of as an American war, since there was no fighting for a few encounters on the high seas. There was no declaration of war and it was all settled within a few months. Yet the fact is that a state of war actually existed. Here again we had no quarrel with the French people, whom we admired and loved for the help they had given us during the Revolution. We were really at war with a little group known as the Directory, who had seized the government of France and misrepresented its people.

In the war of 1812 with Great Britain, the principal question at issue concerned the freedom of American ships and the rights of American sailors on the high seas. For the most part the American army was poorly trained and equipped and had little success. It redeemed itself, however, at the Battle of New Orleans, where Andrew Jackson led the western militia to a well-earned victory. The British government tacitly recognized the soundness of the principle for which the Americans fought.

The Mexican War.

America's next war was with Mexico. The Mexicans had not been very careful of American rights either in Mexico itself or along the frontier, and the disagreement as to the ownership of a certain large strip of land along the Rio Grande easily led to hostilities. In the war that followed the armies of Scott and Taylor won victory after victory against overwhelming odds and eventually Mexico sued for peace. One result of the war was to establish more definitely the right of an American citizen abroad to a reasonable amount of protection and support.

Less than a generation later came the great Civil War. Never was the fighting spirit of the citizen-soldier better shown than in this unhappy and bitter struggle, when Americans were pitted against Americans. Both sides were fighting for principles of government, the North for the principle of union, the South for the principle of the right of a state to secede from that Union. Today, with the war a half century behind them, there are probably few Americans, either North or South, who do not rejoice in their hearts that the principle of union was upheld and that we are able today to meet our new foe as a united nation.

We entered the Spanish war to put an end to misrule in Cuba.

Again our quarrel was not with the Spanish people, but with the government, which was creating conditions in Cuba that we could not endure with self-respect. Admiral Cervera and his men, who had shown themselves brave foes, were received in this country after their defeat and capture as guests rather than as prisoners. Their treatment was striking evidence of our real feeling toward the Spanish people. We fought for the principle that on the American continents governmental tyranny and cruelty must not be permitted to continue; and that principle was established.

Fighting for Principles.

The Americans are peculiarly a peace-loving people. They have no taste for warfare and no lust for territory or power. Yet within less than one hundred and fifty years we have entered six important wars, the last and perhaps the greatest of which is the one just beginning against the German government. Why has all this warfare been necessary?

The answer is to be found in the simple fact that there are certain American rights and principles that must be upheld if the United States is to remain a free and self-respecting nation. These rights have never been attacked—and probably never will be attacked—by other free and democratic peoples. But the world is not yet rid of governments in the hands of small groups who betray their own people and drive them forward in ruthless assaults on the freedom and rights of other peoples. It is a government of this type that now menaces all liberty-loving nations throughout the world and savagely attacks American rights.

In all our previous wars against foreign powers the American people have fought for principles, not for wealth or power, just as they are fighting today. They have fought against governments, not against peoples, just as they are fighting today. They have fought fearlessly and fairly, just as you and the other American soldiers of this war will fight.

TO EXAMINE 7,000,000

All Registered Men Subject to Draft to Be Called Up.

Local Boards to Be Notified to Examine at Once All Registrants So Exemptions Can Be Ascertained.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The immediate examination of the 7,000,000 men who have not yet been called by the local boards is expected in formal orders from Secretary of War Baker to Provost Marshal Crowder.

The War department, it is announced, has decided upon this procedure. By this means each man registered would be either exempted or enrolled for service and would be able to make his plans for the future.

The provost marshal general's office let it be known that it is prepared to start on the work, immediately it is authorized by the secretary's office.

Can Supply Two More Drafts.
It is estimated that out of the men left at least two more drafts can be supplied. The first draft, according to semi-official figures disclosed that approximately one-man out of every four was available for military service.

With the War Department's announced plan of raising an army of 2,300,000, it will require at least 1,000,000 more conscripts to fill the ranks to the required number. Should more men then be required another draft would be necessary. It will be for youths who have reached the age of 21 since the June 5 registration. Such a draft next year would affect, it is believed, more than 2,000,000 men, of whom a greater percentage would be available for service than in the present draft.

25 Coal Mines Closed.

Clerksburg, W. Va., Sept. 21.—Twenty-five coal mines in this vicinity have been compelled to close within a week because the operators were unable to mine and market coal for $2 a ton, the price fixed by the government, according to a statement issued here by Daniel Howard, a leading operator.

Chance Seen for Foe to Talk Peace.

Amsterdam, Sept. 21.—The Berliner Tageblatt, discussing the reply of the Teuton powers to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, says that the German government, irrespective of the exchange of notes, will soon have an opportunity of making known its standpoint regarding peace.

2,000 AT FAIR ON BRAINERD DAY

150 Cars Make the Trip to Pequot on Thursday, Pine River Band Plays Concert

SPEEDWELLS ARE VICTORIOUS
Chalk up 11 Runs in One Inning and Win Game by 15 to 3 Score—Other Fair Events

Crow Wing county's fair at Pequot drew an attendance of 2,000 on Brainerd Day. 150 cars made the trip. Scores traveled on the Minnesota & International railway special. The Pine River band of 20 pieces played. Out of a possible 1200 points, Mission Lake Farmers club scored 1110, winning first prize. Pelican Lake Farmers club was second with 902.

The trotting race, free for all, was won by Ray Anderson with Glen Slocum second. In the running race Ray Anderson was first and John Vogel second.

Cattle exhibits were fine and included the Holsteins of W. H. Cloud, Shorthorns of A. B. English, Holsteins of Will Hall, Jerseys of Ed Johnson, Jerseys of Ludwig Mathison, Guernseys of Ed Besch.

The Brainerd Speedwells defeated the Pine River team 15 to 3. It was a slaughter, the team getting "Trusty" Thomas' goat in the third inning when the Speedwells chalked up 11 runs. Thomas was derailed for Ziegman, but the damage had been done. For the Speedwells' Molstad pitched gift edged ball, keeping his head in the pinches and receiving fine support.

Frank Eddy gave a loyalty address which was well received. "Few," said he, "realize the magnitude of the war."

TO INVENTORY TOBACCO, ETC.

(Office of Collector of Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.)

The revenue measure which is now being considered by congress, and which no doubt will become a law in the course of a week or so, provides, among many other things, for an additional tax upon cigars, tobacco, snuff and cigarettes. All persons who have any of the above mentioned articles in their possession for sale must make an inventory UPON THE DAY THE LAW PASSES, of all tobacco, cigars, snuff and cigarettes, and forward the same to this office, together with a remittance. All persons who paid special tax as dealers in tobacco for the six months' period ending December 31, 1916, will receive proper blanks and information as to the making of the inventory. However, there are many retail dealers in tobacco who were not engaged in the business from July 1st to December 31, 1916, and their names are not known to this office. It will therefore be necessary for all who do not receive the proper blanks to write to this office, and the same will be supplied.

As the law provides severe penalties for all who do not render inventories please give this matter as much publicity among your customers as possible. The fact that no blanks are received from this office without making requisition for the same does not relieve the tax payers from the penalties provided by law in case inventories are not rendered.

Respectfully,
E. J. LYNCH,
Collector.

BENSON VICTOR IN TANK FIGHT

Indian Agent Fires Shot from 45 Caliber Gat Through Gas Tank of Blockade Runner

AUSTRIAN TAKES TO BUSHES
Car has a Wheel Smashed, Oakland Automobile and 114 Quarts of Whiskey are Seized

The western battle front has its tanks and its lively skirmishes and so has Crow Wing county.

Spotting a contraband liquor blockade runner since early summer, Special Officer Charles E. Benson's efforts were rewarded late Thursday afternoon when he saw the Oakland car, driven by an Austrian, steaming east on the Oak street road headed for the dry iron range country.

A yell to halt was met with a burst of speed from the pursued car. Benson drew a bead on the gasoline tank at the rear of the car, there was a sharp bark from his 45 caliber automatic gun and a hole was punched through the tank half an inch wide. The precious gas streamed out.

The Austrian drove his car full speed off the broad highway, through a fence and then leaped out and headed for the woods as the rear wheel splintered. Benson seized the car and seven sacks of booze, some of which smashed up in the commotion. 114 quarts of whiskey were in the car.

The car is an Oakland, bearing Minnesota state license No. 140,715, and its speedometer showed 8,735 miles and the trip dial 216 miles.

"JOY KILLER" BLOWS TATTOO

9 O'clock Signal for Lights Out Does Not Seem to Please Some of the Soldier Boys

GOLEMBOSKE WRITES DISPATCH
As Member 7th Field Battalion Signal Corps in Georgia Describes Experiences

September 17, 1917.
The Brainerd Daily Dispatch,
Brainerd, Minnesota.

In the paper I received I read of the "send off" that Brainerd gave to the men who went off to the national army. It certainly was good to see that the old town was not backward in giving to Uncle Sam's army its share of fighting men and I really believe that our Uncle is getting the cream of the city and men who will keep up the reputation of the Gopher state which sure enough got a good start on the very ground upon which the cantonments stand and on Snodgrass hill during the battle of Chancellorsville. As to Chattanooga they did their share toward giving their representatives to the national army a royal send-off. With gray-headed confederate veterans marched the sons of confederate veterans, American Red Cross, one battery of the First Tennessee light artillery, one squadron of the eleventh cavalry, the sixth infantry and band, part of the medical corps, ambulance corps composed of about twenty-five motor ambulances and thirty-four horse ambulances, about fifty big heavy motor trucks and naturally the seventh field battalion signal corps of which I am more than proud to be a member. We had an unusually hard time as our horses are new and were a little shy at the crowd and all the excitement. A big number of the officers training camp also was there. This is the home of the eleventh cavalry and when their band came down the street with all their horses stepping high and prancing, playing "Dixie," they sure enough created some real excitement. Gray-headed old veterans of the Civil War came up to us younger men, shook hands and bid us good luck. It was a gala day in Chattanooga as I believe it was in most all large cities, but when the special train which carried the men to their new duties at Atlanta, Georgia, began to move slowly out of the train sheds at the terminal station, big tears began to show themselves on many faces and when the train had disappeared around the curve the crowd began to wend its way from the station. Many old confederate veterans moved tottering away talking among themselves evidently of the days of a half century ago when they had seen men taken into the service in the same way. After the excitement had passed over and things assumed their natural aspect, one of my friends and myself made a trip up on the famous Lookout mountain. From the mountain one can see seven states, it is claimed. One sure enough can realize what an engineering feat it was to plant those guns on that bluff overlooking all of Chattanooga and miles and miles of fertile country.

The confederate forces sealed an almost perpendicular rock five hundred feet from the ground by means of a ladder and planted the rebel flag in a crevice in the rock but were unable to hold it. I also visited the Craven House where a confederate general made his headquarters and where the book "St. Elmo" was written.

On top of the mountain is a museum where there are many relics of

CAR OF VISITOR STOLEN TODAY

Capt. G. A. Anderson's new four cylinder Buick touring car was stolen at 3 o'clock this afternoon, having been parked near Sixth and Front streets.

The captain and his family came from Crosby to bid farewell to the soldier boys.

Police and sheriff were notified and are searching for the car.

that famous battle, guns, pistols, saddles, bridles, gloves, sabers, canteens, caps, the chair in which U. S. Grant signed several letters to Washington and the table on which some famous confederate general (I can't recall his name at present) wrote his letters.

We Yankees, as the southern people call us, think we are hospitable, but I can honestly say without exaggeration, that we don't know what hospitality is until we have visited some of these southern homes. I have had the pleasure of visiting at many southern homes since I have been in the south and I know what it is now. Up to this time I was under the impression that what we heard of southern hospitality was something to be found only in story books or tales someone carried here but now I know its the truth sure enough.

Well the good old school bells are ringing again and I imagine there are a lot of heavy laden hearts as they plod their way to the school, but I am now able to realize what I have heard many times before and considered a little untrue advice, namely, that school days are the happiest days of one's life.

I must "knock off" for this time as it is almost time for the "joy killer" to blow tattoo (nine o'clock) at which time I would be forced to stop this as the lights will be turned off at that time.

Respectfully yours,
EARL J. GOLEMBOSKE.

His Other Copper.

A dog was in the habit of going daily to a baker's shop. His master would give him a penny, which he would drop out of his mouth on to the counter, receiving in exchange a penny bun.

One day his master said to the baker: "I should like to know how much my dog really does know. Try him with a halfpenny bun tomorrow."

When the next day the dog dropped his penny and only a halfpenny bun was given to him he sniffed at it, turned it over and over with his paw, then in a dignified manner walked out of the shop, leaving the bun.

In ten minutes he returned, accompanied by a policeman.—London Tit Bits.

A Matter of Economy.

"But why do you wish to have a running account at the department store?" asked the husband. "Do you think it saves you anything?"

"Of course it does, you silly thing. Isn't that just like a man! It saves me more than you can imagine," answered the wife in a breath.

"But what does it save?" persisted the husband.

Boy Poets.

Keats wrote his famous "Ode to Autumn" in his sixteenth year and, indeed, all his five great odes, among the greatest in any language, before he attained legal manhood. He died at twenty-five. Robert Burns wrote that scathing satire, "Holy Willie's Prayer," when he had barely passed his youth, and, indeed, the whole of the poems in the famous Kilmarnock edition were written before he was twenty-five. But even the precocity of Burns was put in the shade by that of Chatterton, who committed suicide in a fit of despair in a London garret when he was seventeen. He wrote the whole huge volume of the Rowley poems when he was a schoolboy at Bristol.

If lovers were wise they would save at least two-thirds of the tender things they say to each other before marriage and ladle them out after the honeymoon.

Sacred Crow

Ponder over it as I may, I have never been able to figure out why anybody who hasn't been out in the sun too much should pick a crow to hold sacred. One would think that if they were going to pick any bird to hold sacred they would select a beautiful one, for India has hundreds of beautiful birds, and by no wild leap of the imagination could a crow be called pretty.

I thought our American crows were homely, but they are beautiful alongside the Bombay crows. The Bombay crows are the dirtiest, grasiest, most dilapidated looking birds I ever saw in my life. They take full advantage of their sacredness. They will swoop down and pull vegetables out of a basket a person is carrying and will come hopping in and drag things off the table, especially things that will spot the carpet, but one cannot touch them, for they are sacred.

And they retire so late at night! They dearly loved to sit on a limb outside my window and engage in scandal and gossip until a late hour in harsh voices until I would give anything if before I left Missouri I had packed a shotgun.

As for sacred snakes, India produces some fine ones, but they are in the same class as are the sacred crows with me.

Monkeys are in a class by themselves, and when one playfully tosses a tile from the roof at my head I miss that shotgun more than ever.

Another curious thing in India is the jewelry fad.

I love to get on a street car in Bombay and ride just to see the conductor. He wears his turban wrapped around his head and his skirt coiled around his waist, and when he comes down the aisle to collect your fare his brown knees pop in and out from under his skirt as if it were some new kind of game.

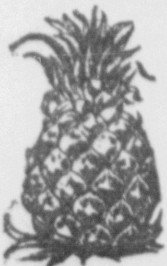

A Hindu street car conductor doesn't worry much about the rags situated here and there that make up his clothes. His efforts are concentrated on getting a big pair of earrings. It is wonderful what success they have. Some of the rings look as if they had been cast for the navy. Their earrings are not little bobs that hang from the lower part of the ear, but are hoops fastened in the top part. The right ear is the favorite. On this they hang the greater part of their silverware.

India is a great jewelry wearing country. When it comes to scattering it around the women favor their ears first and their wrists second. They wear bracelets clear up to their elbows until they look like a cane rack at old home week. The Hindus are afraid to put their money in the bank, so they buy jewelry and string it on their wives. A Hindu can't lift his head and look the world in the eye if his wife, coming down the sidewalk, doesn't rattle like a milk wagon. Every time she puts up her hand to do her hair it sounds as if the next number on the program were a muscle dance.

Toes are a favorite place with the Hindus for jewelry. The big toe is certain of a silver ring, and if the pocketbook holds out the envions small or ones are sure to be remembered. Some of the toe rings have tiny little bells, so that when a woman walks it sounds as if the cows were in the corn on the far forty.

The women of India don't go in very much for dressing. Jewelry is about all they wear, and they wear that at inconspicuous points. They seem to take a personal pride in seeing how much money they can save their husbands on clothes, and their husbands see with how much jewelry they can surprise their wives. The Mohammedan women are very careful to keep their faces covered up.

BRITISH SMASH FLANDERS LINE

Capture Valuable German Positions East of Ypres, Haig Reports.

AIMED AT U-BOAT BASE

New Offensive Directed Toward Roulers and Courtrai in Effort to Compel Teutons to Abandon Belgian Coast.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—Strong British attacks on a broad front followed a formidable drawn fire on the Flanders front, reports the German general headquarters staff.

British infantry has gone "over the top" on a wide front east of Ypres, and the Flanders offensive is on again.

The rush evidently was successful at the outset, for the capture of positions of value were reported by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig.

The renewal of the offensive came after a long pause in which intensive preparatory work had been carried on unceasingly.

Germans Lose Heavily.

It is believed the German losses were unusually heavy. Great masses of troops concentrated for the British attack—long advertised by a drum-fire preparation—were caught under a hail of shells from the British batteries.

The British barrage swept the country like a broom. The Germans knew the attack was coming, but were unaware of its exact locality.

There was a light rain but the weather cleared and the visibility is improving.

On 4 1/2-Mile Front.

Unofficial dispatches show the main drive was exerted between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Hollebeke, or on a front of some four and one-half miles astride the Ypres-Menin road. It was in this crucial sector that the gains were most marked.

The main force of the drive was directed toward Roulers and Courtrai, with the probable object of driving a wedge further into the German Flanders front and eventually compelling a German abandonment of the Belgian coast with its valuable submarine and aerial bases.

Marked Success Reported.

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Sept. 22.—Field Marshal Haig's offensive, which was begun at dawn, on the Belgian battle front, is proceeding with marked success, especially in the crucial sector between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Hollebeke.

A bitter fight is in progress in the neighborhood of Inverness Copse, Nuns wood and Glencorse wood.

Greatest Gain in Months.

If the attackers maintain the positions to which they have advanced in this sector, they have accomplished one of the most remarkable and most important achievements in recent months.

The German infantry is making a most determined resistance to retain this vital ground and the Teuton artillery is retaliating heavily against the British big guns.

SOCIALIST EDITORS TAKEN

Two Are Arrested While Distributing Socialist Papers.

St. Paul, Sept. 21.—Alexis E. Georgian, editor of the New Times, Socialist organ of the Northwest, and Edmund Brumbaugh, his assistant, were arrested by St. Paul detectives while distributing Socialist and People's Council newspapers among the crowds attending the Nonpartisan meeting at the St. Paul Auditorium.

Georgian is a Hungarian, 24 years old, and was a witness for the I. W. W. in the congressional investigation last winter. Brumbaugh is American born. Both live in Minneapolis.

At the order of Chief of Police John J. O'Connor, the men were held without bail for the federal authorities. No definite charge was placed.

"I'm not an American citizen," Georgian shouted to Chief O'Connor as he was being searched by the police. He refused to answer questions.

BECOMES AMERICAN PAPER

Portland German Daily Changes Name and Language.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 21.—The Oregon Deutsche Zeitung has changed its name to the Portland American. Its editor, Max Kueke, who has been under investigation by the government and other German employees have been dismissed, according to A. M. Kern, its publisher, and hereafter it will be published in English. In an editorial, Kern said changes were made because he had been notified the paper would be suppressed if it attempted to continue publication in German.

Proves German Atrocities.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—I. S. Rossiter, veteran of the Canadian expeditionary force of 1914, has claimed the reward of $1,000 offered by Dr. Albert Fuchs, German-American millionaire, for proof of German atrocities. Rossiter carried the proof in his right hand. It was purposely mutilated by a German hospital surgeon. Rossiter said, after he had been captured June 1, 1916. He said he was only slightly wounded, but that the surgeons amputated one of his fingers and then deliberately cut all the tendons.

QUEBEC BRIDGE PLACED

Greatest Structure of Kind In World Is Completed.

Two Previous Attempts to Erect Big Span Resulted in Accidents Costing Lives of Eighty-four.

Quebec, Sept. 21.—The work of bolting into place the big center span of the Quebec bridge has been successfully completed, and Canada is now the possessor of the greatest cantilever bridge in the world. It was the greatest engineering feat of the kind ever attempted.

The last hoist was made and the great center span finally put in place late in the afternoon.

The great structure, which is 3,329 feet long and contains 180,000,000 pounds of steel and cost in the neighborhood of $20,000,000 to build, was all but completed today after 11 years of labor, the original structure having been started back in 1906.

Two Previous Collapses.

During its construction 84 men have lost their lives and a monetary loss of $8,500,000 has been sustained through two collapses, the first one costing the lives of 70 men, when the south cantilever arm collapsed in 1907 and the second in 1916 when the center span went into the St. Lawrence through the breaking of a casting on the hoisting apparatus.

Painting operations will be immediately started. It will take three years to paint the bridge. As soon as the painters finish it, they will start all over again and keep this going continually as the work has to be done every three years.

"The general political and economical situation of the world works only in favor of our enemies and the German soldiers will be defrauded of the fruits of their victories."

He adds the German offensive was not strong enough to overthrow the Allies.
